BOMB THREATS

BOMB THREATS

BASIC SECURITY OFFICER TRAINING ACADEMY

The threats of being bombed are unforgiving realities in today's world. The community is becoming more aware of many incidents of violence by cruel and immoral individuals of our society through the illegal use and sale of explosives. Law enforcement agencies are charged with providing protection for life and property, but law enforcement alone cannot be held liable. We must assist in reporting any illegal activity we encounter to assist in our safety. On a school campus or anywhere every person must there part to ensure a safe environment for everyone.

The B.S.O.T. Basic Security Officer Training Academy is designed to help both you and the security staff prepares for the potential bomb threat or related violence. The ideas expressed are applicable in most cases, they are intended only as a guide. The information provided by B.S.O.T. is compiled from a wide range of sources, including school safety manuals, and security training academies plus information from the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (ATF).

If there is one point that cannot be overstressed, it is the importance of being prepared, remember training is the key to being prepared. By developing and applying a bomb incident plan and considering possible bomb incidents in your physical security plan, you can shrink the possibility for personal and property damage.

The training B.S.O.T. reference guide is available to you, we hope to help you better prepare to deal with bomb threats and the illegal use of explosives.

BOMBS

The people that spend the time making bombs know that you can make a bomb look like almost anything or that it can be delivered in many different ways. The probability of finding a bomb that looks like the stereotypical bomb is almost unreal. Bomb makes what the bomb to be undetected so that it could do what it was intended to do, blow up and cause serious injury.

Many bombs are made in homes or garage and not in a bomb shop and are limited in their design the resources available to the one making the bomb. Remember, when searching for a bomb, question anything that looks unusual or out of place. Let local law enforcement personal that are trained in bomb threats determine if it is real or not.
